OUR MISSION, VISION AND VALUES:

Mission

St. Ann’s Center for Children, Youth, and Families strengthens and supports families on their journey toward stability. Inspired by Catholic social teaching and Gospel values, St. Ann’s Center provides a nurturing community where families heal from the past, overcome barriers, and take hold of their future.

Vision

St. Ann’s Center is a leader in innovative services to women, children, and families.

Values

St. Ann’s Center is committed to providing care that is safe, nurturing, healing, empowering and strength-based, and where all are served with compassion, dignity, and respect.

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your support of St. Ann's Center in FY2020. Throughout a year filled with uncertainty, your help enabled us to fulfill our mission started by the Daughters of Charity 160 years ago.

Three Sisters founded St. Ann's Center in 1860 as D.C.'s first foundling home for vulnerable children. Three years later, President Lincoln signed an Act of Congress incorporating St. Ann's and expanding our services to expectant women and mothers affected by the Civil War. We've lived this mission ever since – through two World Wars, the 1918 Flu Pandemic, the Great Depression, and COVID-19, just to name a few challenges.

St. Ann's has been able to live its mission across the decades through the generosity of our friends and supporters. Thank you for the many ways you have supported our community these past months.

Your help directly impacted our families and our mothers who reached significant milestones during the pandemic – graduating from high school, completing certificate programs and nursing degrees, and successfully transitioning from St. Ann's to stable, permanent housing. Thank you for enabling these successes!

We were fortunate to be able to celebrate these incredible accomplishments – along with our 160th Anniversary – during our first-ever virtual gala in May 2021. I invite you to experience (or re-experience!) our Hope Blossoms gala by viewing the video recording at www.stanns.org. And of course, we look forward to seeing you again in person soon.

Sister Mary Bader, CEO

HOUSING PROGRAMS

St. Ann's Center operates three supportive housing programs that cater to the needs of young moms and children seeking safety and stability through St. Ann's: Grace House, Hope House, and Faith House. Within these programs, families are able to meet their housing needs while also having access to wraparound services that support families' goals of long-term independence and sustainability.

GRACE HOUSE

Teen Mother & Baby Program

In Grace House, pregnant and parenting young women receive supportive housing services as part of the St. Ann's Teen Mother & Baby Program. The young mothers are supported through their pregnancy and early motherhood. Mothers are able to continue their education, make important decisions affecting their families, and plan for the future with the help of our staff who serve as Life Coaches.

HOPE HOUSE & FAITH HOUSE

Transitional Housing Program

Our transitional supportive housing program consists of Hope House (est. 2013) and Faith House (est. 1996). Hope House residents reside in single-family units with shared kitchens and living spaces in St. Ann's main building. Faith House residents live in a standalone building on St. Ann's campus that allows for a more independent setting of private, one-bedroom apartments with a shared kitchen and living areas.

All residents have access to our wrap-around support services, in addition to 24-hour supervision and mentoring. These services are designed to supplement the housing needs and prepare residents for a life of stability, successful careers, and financial independence.

SUPPORT SERVICES AND OUTREACH

EDUCATION AND EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

St. Ann's Education and Employment Program (EEP) helps families overcome barriers to academic excellence and workforce success, using individualized roadmaps based on each client's particular strengths and needs.

EMPLOYMENT COUNSELING

Our career-centered counseling program is a collaborative effort in conjunction with our local partners geared to building the foundation for lifelong independence. Our residents receive one-on-one career counseling, resume writing assistance, job etiquette advice, and job placement assistance.

GED PREP AND TUTORING

Our Education Center assists women within St. Ann's Center and from the community who have not earned a high school diploma. Our younger mothers who are enrolled in high school receive individualized tutoring and are assigned a staff member who serves as an advocate for the student and a liaison to the school. Prep classes are conducted for women working toward their GED.

MENTORING

St. Ann's is fortunate to have Volunteer Mentors who are matched with mothers for weekly support sessions. Mentors and mentees work together to build new skills and develop strengths along the family's journey.

PARENTING AND LIFE SKILLS

Through Parenting and Life Skills classes, residents acquire practical knowledge and skills. These classes are taught by staff and volunteers with professional experiences in various fields. Subject areas include: financial literacy; maternal and pediatric health; child development; nutrition; self-care; spirituality; parenting; and Street Law, Inc., to name a few.

ESL

St. Ann's English as a Second language (ESL) Program was created in 2017 to assist St. Ann's residents and community members. The ESL program will resume when COVID-19 safety restrictions are lifted.

CLINICAL AND SOCIAL WORK SERVICES

St. Ann's wrap-around CSWS are key to our residential program. Each family is paired with a social worker to assist them in accessing healthcare, child care vouchers, and other benefits. Together, case managers and mothers create service plans designed to address and serve each mother's complex and unique needs.

The CSWS offers a model of care that is trauma-informed and strength-based to families - both individually and in group settings. These services help young mothers heal from traumatic experiences, thrive in motherhood and achieve stability.

OUTREACH

St. Ann's provided 307 underserved individuals in the community who were in need of food, clothing, baby items, toys, and other supplies.

CHILD CARE CENTER

St. Ann's first offered Child Care in 1949, to assist working families in D.C. In 1984, our Child Care expanded to include care for infants, and we became the first Infant Child Care Center licensed in the state of Maryland outside of a hospital setting. We have been offering high-quality and safe child care to residents and children from the community for three decades since. Our child care services feature a full developmental program with emphasis on social and emotional development.

INFANT AND TODDLER PROGRAM

(Ages 2 months to 2 years)

St. Ann's has prioritized care for infants and toddlers for our entire 160-year history. Each child participating in our program receives individualized care and attention in a loving environment designed to meet each child's particular needs. Our program provides close supervision and structure while allowing each child to grow at their own pace.

St. Ann's also offers an Early Head Start program for low-income families with children under the age of 3. This enriching program supports physical, cognitive, emotional and social development, to help prepare children for continued growth and success in future learning environments.

Early Head Start also supports parents in their role as primary caregivers and teachers of their children.

St. Ann's Child Care Center closed temporarily between March 13, 2020 and July 20, 2020 as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Nevertheless, our dedicated Child Care Center teachers found creative ways to continue providing support to the families who rely on St. Ann's. Our teachers created a virtual "Circle Time" and storytelling space, interacting regularly with little ones via Zoom. We are grateful for the gift of technology which helped us to stay connected until our Child Care Center was safely re-opened!

PRESCHOOL PROGRAM

(Ages 3 to 4 years)

St. Ann's Preschool Program helps children develop their ABCs as well as emotional and social skills. In their last two years at St. Ann's, children are prepared for a successful transition to Kindergarten. Our well-trained and caring teachers utilize activities, instruction, and play to help students grow in self-efficacy and self-esteem while learning to socialize with peers in a nurturing environment.

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT: SUSANA CHIANG

This is an abridged version of the May 18, 2020 New York Times article by Elizabeth Bruenig, which featured St. Ann's Center and resident Susana Chiang. Since publication, Susana and her daughter have transitioned from St. Ann's transitional housing program to permanent, independent housing of their own.

In a small auditorium at St. Ann's Center for Children, Youth and Families in Hyattsville, Md., 26-year-old Susana Chiang and I talk softly through our masks. Nearby is a well-loved plastic playhouse, where Ms. Chiang's 4-year-old daughter is preparing us pretend food. She serves invisible ice cream and pasta with pepper and eggs. Children always seem taken with the essential vocations — food service, mail delivery, health care, parenthood — as though they're born with a sense of what's important in the world.

As her daughter plays, Ms. Chiang explains how she came to be at St. Ann's, which offers shelter, counseling, education and child care to mothers and pregnant girls and women in crisis.

Ms. Chiang's life stabilized at St. Ann's. She earned a certification to work as a nursing assistant and began considering her prospects for a career. About two years ago, she got a job as a teaching aide at a Montessori school. Ms. Chiang loves her work. "Kids meet us where we are," she said. "They're always living in the present moment. They're really grateful."

When schools closed down in mid-March, Ms. Chiang was furloughed. She applied for unemployment benefits but received a notification that she was ineligible, without a clear explanation as to why. With no income, she began spending the money she has saved during her time at St. Ann's. "It's been stressful," she said.

Ms. Chiang has poured herself into her online teaching certification program. She volunteered on a couple of occasions to babysit the children of other residents of St. Ann's as they worked their essential jobs. St. Ann's is home to women who work in nursing homes, grocery stores and big-box stores — employment considered, even under coronavirus-related restrictions, necessary to the functioning of civil society. These workers are now widely recognized as essential, but their compensation, benefits and status in society hardly reflect how critical they are.

But the women of St. Ann's remain hopeful and dedicated. "When I got here," Ms. Chiang tells me, "there were all these people around me who wanted to support me. I'd never had that before. I started — doing things, you know?"

She still suffers from anxiety, intensified by the pandemic, and from self-doubt. It isn't easy to be a single parent at any time, much less during the coronavirus. "Sometimes I wonder: Did I make the right choice?," she says. Ms. Chiang's daughter darts up for a hug. "But she's thriving all the time, and she makes me so happy. I'm just so grateful that there was a place like this."

Nia Graham is an actor and teaching artist with The Theater Lab who volunteered to teach Life Stories at St. Ann's in 2019. Life Stories is a nationally recognized theatre program helping people from vulnerable backgrounds create dramatic works using their own life experiences. Over ten weeks of classes, Nia taught women at St. Ann's how to write, act, and direct stories about their own lives.

Nia helped participants explore stories about the past as well as the future. Nia recalls the group bringing to life one participant's dream of writing a book by having a staged book signing, with actors waiting in line to meet the author. "[Through Life Stories] you can step into your future self, and imagine your life as the best version it can be. It's powerful to be able to live that for a moment through theater play," says Nia.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT: NIA GRAHAM

Nia's motivation to help vulnerable populations stems from her own life experiences. At age 15, Nia became pregnant and left her high school to become a resident at St. Ann's. At first she was hesitant, but she says she soon found a supportive community and made friends in a setting that allowed her to continue taking classes. "I went in crying, and I came out crying tears of joy," Nia says.

After giving birth, Nia successfully transitioned from St. Ann's and returned to her high school. She even journeyed to Korea through the school's International Studies program. "All thanks to St. Ann's!" she says.

Now a mother of three and a veteran actor and teacher, Nia enjoys working with other young women and helping them reclaim their vision for their futures.

"When I was 15 and pregnant I was told that my life was over. I carried that for a long time. And there was a truth to sacrifice and difficulty. But the idea that you can't follow your dreams or that your dreams don't matter - I knew I could return to St. Ann's and tell them that's not true," says Nia.

In addition to working with St. Ann's, Nia teaches Life Stories at numerous settings across the D.C. Metro area, including the Children's Inn at NIH (where she has been teaching acting classes over Zoom during the COVID pandemic) and with TAPS (Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors), working with families of fallen service members.

Nia says her students' bravery inspires her to continue volunteering at St. Ann's and throughout the region. "There's a certain amount of courage that you need. I am always so touched and moved by how courageous our participants are. There's a lot going on in their lives. When they open up [during] this hour and a half, it means so much to me and I am so changed," she says.

In the early months of the pandemic, our Board of Directors provided twice-weekly meals for all St. Ann's families during Maryland's lockdown period.

Thank you to each of our board members for your generosity and leadership in a challenging time!

Our work would not be possible without the dedication of our staff and the stewardship of our Board of Directors.

CONSIDER A CHARITABLE IRA ROLL-OVER

If you are 70.5 or older, you may instruct your IRA custodian to transfer any amount, up to $100,000, directly to St. Ann's Center.

By making a direct charitable distribution from your IRA you can fulfill all or part of your minimum required distribution (MDR) without adding to your taxable income.

Although your gift will not qualify for a charitable deduction when you itemize, the reduction in taxable income may provide a greater benefit. Talk to your IRA custodian to find out if this type of contribution is right for you.

INVEST IN ST. ANN'S FUTURE

Planned Gifts & Bequests: Make a lasting impact on St. Ann's mission by leaving a gift in your will. This is a simple way to ensure that St. Ann's work will continue to thrive for years to come.

Named Endowment: Establishing a named endowment provides a perpetual legacy. Only a portion of the fund will be used each year; the balance remains invested.

St. Ann's Donor Trust: Funds contributed to St. Ann's Donor Trust are invested and a portion is disbursed annually.

Trust funds are used to maintain a safe and secure facility and enhance programming.
